

COMPREHENSIVE EXIT PLANNING

Sooner or later, you will leave your business!

Do you have a departure date in mind?

Do you know how much money you will need to realize from the sale of your business in order to achieve financial security?

Do you know what your business is worth now?

Do you know what you can do to increase the value of your business, in order to maximize the return on your years of hard work?

Do you know the best way to sell your business which will maximize the amount of cash you will receive while minimizing your tax liability and reducing your risk?

Do you have a plan in place that will insure that your business continues even if you don't?

Do you have a plan in place that provides for your family's security and continuity if you were to die, become incapacitated or otherwise not able to continue to operate your business?

In order to exit your business on your terms, you will need to be able to answer yes each of these questions!

A comprehensive Exit Plan will allow you to answer yes to each of the above by putting into action a plan that will:

Allow you to choose your departure date.

Maximize the value of your business.

Provide a means to sell your business for its maximum value.

Allow you to meet your personal and family needs by providing security and continuity to your business for you and your family, either upon your planned departure or, if disaster strikes, upon your death or disability.

You owe it you yourself, your business and your family to create an Exit Plan that will achieve all of the above!
